(Image believed: Square Enix) Square Enix just unveiled two new games of the Kingdom of Hearts in one leather, the Kingdom Hearts: Memorial Melody and the Kingdom Dark Road Hearts. Both games are scheduled to launch in 2020.The antima a rhythmic game that is coming to the Xbox One switch, PS4 and Nintendo, while the next is a mobile game in turn that comes to Android, iOS and Amazon.Kingdom Hearts: Memory melody and dark road unfortunately, there is still no English trailer, but I'm sure someone on the internet has translated it now.À € While the hearts of the kingdom: Melody of the memory and the Kingdom Hearts dark street seem to be games of Spin-off, I wouldn't be surprised if I had important plot points in history that concerns the General Series. He did not claim to understand to understand the structure of twisted story that is the Kingdom Hearts. However, from what I collected, Kingdom Hearts: the melody of memory will immerse you in the memories of Kairi, from which the name of her, to help her remember everything that is forgotten. Kingdom Hearts Dark Road has an official release date of the trailer. It seems you will be able to access this game from the Kingdom Heart Union Cross' Screen Startup Screen as if it were an expansion. We will probably learn more about these games of the Kingdom of Hearts when the official launch of the English trailers for them in the near future, so stay tuned. Start taking your partner in crime or assistant in another room before meeting you with your friends. In private, given your assistant the secret of the game. Done that you will be indicating various objects in the room and ask if everyone is the object you are thinking. They should continue to respond to "no" while attention is paid to the color of the pointed objects. Once you indicate a black object, your assistant should say again "no", but it should agree that the next object that we report will be the correct answer. Showtime (The Pledge) returns to the room alone. Your assistant should be left behind where they can't feel during the game. This reassures your audience that the "psychic" assistant fails to intercept. Request one of the members of the public or a volunteer to select a In the room or indicate it. Ask them to tell you what is the object as you will send a psychic message to your assistant, so you could know the object chosen. DESCRIPTION Tessing (the turn) Once you have assured that everyone in the public knws the object chosen, ask for several people from the public to bring your assistant back to the room. A group is necessary to remove any doubt doubts arise by sending an individual that could reveal what the object is. Point to various objects in the room and asks if this item is "It". Remember not to point to any object black. Tell us about your makeup putting your fingers on the sides of the head and fixing your server to "convey the psychic message" before betting. The prestige points to a black object that the member of the public never would choose. After asking if it's the right item, your server should say: "No." After indicating the next object, your assistant should answer "Yes" to your question as previously expected, as it is the correct object. Your audience will be surprised at how you were able to pass along the secret. alternative versions of black magic Your audience generally will attempt to guess how did the trick at this stage. It proves to them that their assumptions are wrong repeating the trick in a different way. It is possible to perform the "black" method before then to alternate with the numerical method. You can tell your assistant to the eighth, ninth or tenth article that will indicate the correct answer. Select a higher number five makes it less apparent to a pattern to your audience. The use of coded gestures with your assistant astounded your audience further if you allow a volunteer to indicate items. You can also have your beer and meet even Cinderella.
