Masalah ini Yang menjadi penyebab dari kesalahan otentikasi terjadi, Anda harus Enter the correct password. If the password is correct but cannot yet be connected, it is likely that the original password is changed by itself. You can try to replace the default password with the steps described in this article: How to change your Wifi password.Â In the article explained how to view and replace the wifi password on the zte modem, just adjust it on the modem you use. As for the way it is always the same. When we want to go to the access page it is certain that we must be connected to the modem that will be set. This means we need a LAN cable to connect it here. If there is no LAN cable and it turns out that the modem password changes in default, the password is usually written on the back of the modem. Please check if there is a password written on the back or not? The default average modem password has a unique character. If it does not exist, it means that you need a LAN cable to enter modem administration mode and then you can change the password. How to track other IP address that are online The remote technical problem often occurs on the phone for some reason, which is sure to overcome this problem, you just restart your phone or activate the air mode easily. How to enable air mode on PC: go to PC Settings - Network Air Mode - Enable. You can also search directly in the search menu with the keyword "Air Mode" and Windows will automatically direct it to it. Once air mode is enabled, wait a few moments and then turn it off again. So try reconnecting to the network you want to connect to. How to enable air mode on Android: go to Air Mode Settings - Enable (usually every phone has a different pass).
